FOREWORD

Dave Edwards is a seasoned sports journalist, who has written for the Press & Journal for the last 17 years. Specialising in football and golf, Dave knows a great course when he sees one, here he gives his take on golf in Moray Speyside.

Moray is a mecca for golfers, it always has been! Whether you're coming up the 18th at Moray Old in lovely Lossiemouth, regarded by many as one of the finest but toughest closing holes in Scottish golf, or playing anything from a wedge to a 5-wood on 1999 Open champion Paul Lawrie's all-time favourite par 3, the 'Prelsach' in nearby Hopeman, you'll be assured of truly amazing coastal views, even better sunsets and the warmest of welcomes.

But Moray isn't all about traditional links like Moray Old and New, or Hopeman, or other hidden coastal gems, all within 10 miles, such as a delightful 9-holes at Covesea Links, Garmouth and Kingston with immaculately kept saucer-shaped greens, the Ben Sayers' designed Spey Bay, Buckpool, with what many regard as the best greens in the North, and nearby Strathlene, an intriguing mix of links and moorland, then, just a couple of miles along the coast, Cullen Links, with its spectacular rocky outcrops offering blind shots galore, over, around and between those spectacular monoliths.

We also boast equally spectacular inland courses, Elgin, widely regarded as one of the finest inland tracks north of the Forth, Forres, yet another James Braid masterpiece, its signature par 4 short 16th played through an avenue of trees over a pond to a well-guarded green, a couple of miles away why not pay and play at Kinloss, and let's not forget the new kid on the block, Maverston, near Elgin, with equally stunning views.

There are also three scenic courses in the heart of malt whisky country, Dufftown, a challenging, if at 5000yds, shortish 18 holes, then two 9-holers, firstly Donald Steel's mini-masterpiece at Ballindalloch, beautifully manicured with 18 different tempting tees, and last but not least, my home town club, Rothes, where the beauty of the scenery is matched only by the faint whiff of Speyside's finest product.

I sincerely hope you enjoy all that golf in Moray has to offer!

Yours in golf,
Dave Edwards

DESIGNED BY THE GREATS

Cullen Links Golf Club

Forres Golf Club

Moray Golf Club

With miles of rugged coastline to the north and the undulating mountains of the Cairngorms to the South, it's no wonder that some of the worlds most revered course designers decided to make their mark here in Moray Speyside.

Founded in 1889, Moray Golf Club's old course was designed by the legendary Old Tom Morris. Regarded as the father of modern greenkeeping, Tom Morris was influential in beginning The Open Championship in 1860, along with James Fairlie, and struck the very first shot in that event.

Morris designed the Old Course at Moray as a classic links, with deep rivetted bunkers, undulating gorse lined fairways and smooth fast greens. It is considered by many to be one of the finest links courses in Scotland, a superb test of golf with seven par fours over 400 yards.

But Moray Golf Club doesn't stop delivering great architecture there. In 1979, Sir Henry Cotton designed the Moray New Course. Mostly associated with golf architecture in Portugal, where he called home, The New Course at Moray is one of only two courses in Scotland designed by the three-time Open Champion.

Old Tom Morris, impressed by Moray Speyside's natural coastline and sandy soil, went on to design the original nine holes at Cullen Golf Links. The result: An impressive design from golfing history that is classed by many as a true hidden gem.

Another former Open Champion, James Braid, also ventured to Moray Speyside. He designed the original nine holes at Forres Golf Club in 1889. The course was then further expanded in 1912 to eighteen holes by Willie Park Jnr, another two-time Open Champion. The 6,236-yard, par-70 course has hosted various professional tournaments, a true testament to the quality of the course, and continues to please members and visitors alike.

The course at Spey Bay Golf Club was designed in 1907 by Professional golfer Ben Sayers, who went onto become a distinguished golf teacher, golf course designer and manufacturer of golf clubs and equipment. Sayers used the natural shape of the rugged coastline to create what has been described as "coastal heathland type of links golf". Several holes were lost during the 1980's due to storm damage, however, most of Sayers original layout still exists.

Immersed in golfing history, the classic yet quirky courses in Moray Speyside will provide players from all over the world, a challenging yet enjoyable experience, thanks to the foresight and creativity of some of the icons of the golfing world.

We hope you enjoy!

EXPLORE MORAY SPEYSIDE

Craigellachie

If you are reading this guide, then the chances are you are interested in golfing in Moray Speyside. However, you may not know that the region is packed full of fun things to do on your time away from the courses.

From dramatic mountain scenery to an award-winning coastline, incredible food, and of course, world famous Speyside Malt Whisky, the region has all the ingredients to make sure every visitor enjoys a magical, memorable experience. Here are just a few suggestions.

LANDSCAPE & NATURE

From the high tops of the Cairngorms to the cliffs and coves of a spectacular coastline, Moray Speyside offers great landscape diversity and the wildlife that goes with it, including the famous dolphins of the Moray Firth.

@ Paul McGregor

Bow Fiddle Rock

Bow Fiddle Rock is a natural sea arch situated on the coast near Portknockie. Named for its resemblance to the tip of a fiddle bow, this rock formation is a nesting place for sea birds including herring gulls, great black-backed gulls and lesser black-backed gulls to name but a few. Photographed by hundreds of tourists each year, this rock has become somewhat of an icon in Moray Speyside.

@ Paul McGregor

Dark Skies

Why not take a trip up into the Cairngorm National Park to the Glenlivet National Dark Skies Discovery site, the most Northernly and darkest dark sky site in the UK. An excellent stargazing experience where you can not only view the milky way, but if you're lucky you may even experience the Northern lights.

@ Charlie Phillips

Dolphins / North 58

The Moray Firth is home to the largest school of dolphins in the UK. There are thought to be over 130 bottlenose dolphins living in the Moray Firth, as well as a large population of seals. The WDC Scottish Dolphin Centre is situated at the mouth of the River Spey and is a haven for wildlife including bottlenose dolphins, ospreys, grey and common seals, the occasional otter and many coastal birds. Or if you are more adventurous, why not take a boat trip out into the water with North 58 to spot these magnificent creatures.

HISTORY, HERITAGE & CULTURE

Moray Speyside offers contrasts in culture – from upland crofters to coastal fisherfolk; a living heritage of the Scots tongue; tales of religious conflict and battles long ago – plus some of the finest castles of the north.

© Steve Oates

Castles

Moray Speyside is home to over 30 historic castles. Follow in the footsteps of iconic Scottish figures such as, Mary Queen of Scots and Robert the Bruce and visit sites such as Balvenie Castle and Spynie Palace. Or, not forgetting Moray Speyside's most prominent villain "The Wolf of Badenoch" who famously burned down Elgin Cathedral in a fit of rage.

Picts

Burghead Headland on the Moray coast is the site of what was the largest Pictish promontory fort in Scotland. Take a trip to the Burghead Visitor Centre where the staff will take you through the history of Burghead from about 400AD to present time.

ACTION & ADVENTURE

The rugged Moray coast and the wild Speyside uplands provide a perfect backdrop to a wide range of active pursuits from mountain biking to rafting and a whole lot more. But it's not all adrenalin, there's a gentler side to Moray's activity offer too, such as cycling, sailing, hillwalking and of course, Golf! The soft climate and low rainfall make the area the perfect place for all sorts of activities. Here are just a few:

© Ace Adventures

Ace Adventures

Situated near the banks of the River Findhorn in Moray, Ace Adventures offer a wide range of exhilarating water sports that are sure to please even the biggest thrill seekers.

Cycling

The Moray Speyside landscape is ideal for cycling. From the adrenaline rush of mountain-biking amidst spectacular scenery and stunning views to the meandering exploration of peaceful forest tracks, and from exhilarating high-speed road-cycling to companionable evenings in cyclist-friendly hotels, the region provides a range of options to suit your abilities, equipment and interests.

Johnstons of Elgin

Johnstons of Elgin have been creating the finest woollen and cashmere cloth, clothing and accessories at their Moray premises since 1797. Take a guided tour around the mill to experience the production process. Then, browse round their men's, ladies' and children's collections alongside beautiful accessories and homewares in their mill shop. Afterwards, why not stop into their onsite coffee shop, where the emphasis is firmly on fresh, local produce, with homemade soups, gourmet salads, sandwiches and award-winning salmon.

Brodie Countryfare

Brodie Countryfare is one of the most pleasant shopping experiences in the North of Scotland providing a blend of quality and a traditional Scottish welcome. Their award-winning family restaurant provides the ideal opportunity for a coffee or a meal with family or friends. Each dish is freshly prepared on the premises using only the finest ingredients from the North East of Scotland.

A TASTE OF MORAY

Moray's low rainfall and high sunshine records mean sun-ripened barley for whisky, good weather for fishermen, long growing season for kitchen gardens, grass-fed cattle and a host of other benefits for food and drink producers.

Moray Speyside is home to some of the world's most famous food and drink brands, to more than half of Scotland's distilleries, to smoked salmon, shortbread and much more. It is a region rich in food and drink heritage, with a strong sense of regional identity. With almost 30% of Scotland's produce coming from Moray Speyside, it's no wonder the region is known as Scotland's Larder.

Whatever the weather, Moray offers something of a treat for foodies – wild salmon, seafood, venison and game, grass-fed beef and lamb, whisky, ice cream and much more.

But it's not just the traditional food & drink on offer here. The popularity of craft beer and gin has not been overlooked in Moray Speyside.

You can visit brands such as Windswept Brewing, take a tour and enjoy learning all about the brewing process. Or why not visit "Against the Grain", Elgin's craft beer bar where you will find a whole host of Ale's to sample.

If you are not a fan of beer, then don't worry! We also have four fantastic craft Gin producers: Avva Gin, ElGin, Gordon Castle Gin and Red Door Gin, all of which are featured on the Visit Scotland Gin tour.

Moray Speyside is also home to the world-famous Cullen Skink, why not visit Lily's Kitchen Café in Cullen and enjoy a bowl of the Cullen Skink World Championship winning soup, it is guaranteed to warm the soul.

In short, there are some great places to eat in Moray, where the restaurants, cafés, bars and inns let the quality of the local ingredients speak for themselves.

WELCOME TO MALT WHISKY COUNTRY

Moray Speyside is home to some of Scotland's most beautiful scenery and lush landscapes, not to mention some breath-taking golf courses. As if this wasn't enough, it is also home to roughly half of all of Scotland's whisky distilleries. Situated in between Inverness and Aberdeen, the region spreads from the rugged Moray coastline down towards the majestic Cairngorms National Park. The River Spey, Scotland's fastest flowing river, runs through the area, starting in the Cairngorm mountains, finally joining the sea at Spey Bay on the Moray Coast. The majority of our distilleries are situated in the beautiful glens surrounding this iconic water source.

The area's rich supply of pure water and beautiful inland setting help to produce smooth and complex whiskies that provide an elegant contrast to the salty and heavily peated whiskies that are produced by distilleries in other regions. Speyside whiskies are characterised by sweet and fruity notes, ranging from ripe pears to sultanas. Hints of nuts and malt are common, while some whiskies also possess a refined smokiness.

Spirit of Speyside Whisky Festival

With so many distilleries packed into our fabulous region you're never far from a distillery or two. From small scale producers who handcraft whisky using traditional methods to some of the most famous distilleries in the world, Moray Speyside is the perfect place to learn all you need to know about the art of whisky creation.

Why not visit during the famous Spirit of Speyside Whisky Festival, which is normally held at the start of May, and get involved in some of the unique whisky events in the festival's packed programme. With over 500 events spread over five days, you are guaranteed to find something to enjoy. Why not pay a visit to the fantastic Speyside Cooperage, the only working cooperage in Scotland to have a visitor centre, where you will discover the craft that goes into making the whisky casks for some of the world's most famous brands. Whether you're already a whisky lover or are still to sample your first dram, you're sure to uncover more than a few fascinating facts – as well as some delicious drams – during your trip to Moray Speyside.

20 FORRES GOLF CLUB

Forres Golf Course was designed by Open Championship winners James Braid and Willie Park, the Par 70 course is just less than 6300 yards, providing a good test for golfers of all abilities.

The course itself is a wonderful parkland golf course with spectacular views. Aimed at golfers of all abilities, it is extremely well maintained and has a fine reputation in the area for the condition of its greens. Offering an interesting layout that will satisfy all who play it, the course is full of memorable holes; none more so than the 16th, aptly named 'Pond'.

Course Highlights

From the back tees the course measures just under 6300 yards with a par of 70. The front nine is par 36 but is the shorter nine. It is however quite tight with several tree-lined holes and great variety. The back nine is longer and at par 34 can be a real challenge but there is more room to open the shoulders. The signature hole is the 16th hole, a shortish par 4 played between trees and over a pond to a well-guarded green.

Green Fees

High Season	£60
1.00pm to 3.00pm	£45
After 3.00pm	£30

ELGIN GOLF CLUB

Founded in 1906 and situated in the heart of Moray & Speyside, Elgin Golf Club is widely regarded as one of the finest inland courses in the North of Scotland.

Originally designed as a 9-hole course, the course was extended to an 18-hole in 1924 due to a rise in popularity of the game. Since this time Elgin Golf Club has proven itself as a must play course amongst golf fans, becoming ranked in the top 100 of Scotland's courses.

Course Highlights

Measuring 6,458 yards with par of 69 and a standard scratch of 71, this challenging but fair course is a true test of low and high handicap players alike.

Green Fees

Details of all courses can be found at morayspeysidegolf.com

HOPEMAN GOLF CLUB

Originally a 9-hole course, which was extended to 18-holes in 1985 making it probably one of the most demanding links courses to play golf in Moray. Most of the fairways are fervently guarded by gorse and broom, adding an additional challenge to members and visitors alike. Along your round you will also find some of the most spectacular views of the stacks and coves that grace this stretch of coastline.

The Prieslach is a spectacular hole, with its green nestling in the Clashach cove over 100 feet below the tee and is undoubtedly Hopeman Golf Club's signature hole. Whilst the hole is only 150 yards long, the green is protected by two bunkers left and right, and with gorse and heather not far away. Depending on wind conditions, almost any club in your bag might be selected.

Course Highlights

Don't be fooled by the course only being 5624 yards long! It is an enjoyably challenging course. Honorary President at Hopeman, Paul Lawrie OBE described the signature Par 3 12th Hole as "probably the best Par 3 he has ever played".

Green Fees

Per Round	£45

24 DUFFTOWN GOLF CLUB

Dufftown Golf Club is an 18-hole course set among the most breath-taking scenery in Speyside.

Founded in 1896, originally as a 9-hole hole course, this little club and course has survived being ploughed and farmed during WWI, left neglected during WWII to come back as a true hidden gem of a course in the heart of Malt Whisky Country.

Hole numbers 7 and 10 both feature in Britain's Extraordinary Golf Holes and Sam Torrance included the 10th hole in his 'Ultimate Fantasy Course' for Visit Scotland.

Set amongst rolling parkland and because of its elevation and topography, Dufftown offers interesting and unique golfing challenges with spectacular views from every aspect. This stunning course also boasts the biggest tee-to-green drop in Britain, the 10th hole at Dufftown is the club's pride and joy.

GOLF DEDICATION CENTRE

Golf Fitting Centre and 24-hour Driving Range at Covesea, Lossiemouth. The shop is stocked with ranges from Cobra, Mizuno, Srixon and many more.

Fancy tuning up your game before heading out to one of our many Moray Speyside courses? Then the Golf Dedication Centre is the perfect place. Devoted and knowledgeable staff are on hand to provide lessons and tuition all with the top of the range Trackman 4.

The 24-hour Driving Range sits just a 5 minute drive outside Lossiemouth between a number of Moray's famous links courses and offers a stunning view of Covesea Lighthouse. The driving range bays are complimented with family fun pitch and putt as well as the Twenty Nineteen Café.

COVESEA LINKS

This 9-hole course sits at the end of its own windy road, nestled in a cove right on the coast between Lossiemouth and Hopeman.

The course follows the contours of the cove, offering stunning views of the coast along the way.

The aim of the course is to provide exceptional pay and play golf on the beautiful Moray Coast that is playable for beginners whilst also a challenge for the experienced.

No need to book, simply turn up and play.

Green Fees

9 holes	£15
18 holes	£25
Under 16	£10
Over 65	£10

Details of all courses can be found at morayspeysidegolf.com

ROTHES GOLF CLUB

Located in the heart of the Spey Valley, on the famous Whisky Trail, this attractive 9-hole inland course built on parkland, features lush tree-lined fairways which overlook wonderful panoramic views of the Spey Valley and the friendly village of Rothes.

The 9-hole course is a gem! The rolling woodland covered slopes provide a breath-taking view, with the pagodas from nearby distilleries dotted around the landscape, it may be hard to keep your eye on the ball. This course provides entertaining challenges throughout for golfers of all abilities.

Course Highlights

Hole 1 – Elchies – A much more difficult hole than its yardage suggests. The first hole on Rothes Golf Course has a gradual incline to the green that is ignored at your peril. This truly can be a ‘make or break’ hole if chasing a score in the second nine.

Green Fees

Adults (18 Holes)	£25
Adults (9 Holes)	£15

SPEY BAY GOLF CLUB

Located at the mouth of the famous River Spey on the stunning Moray Firth coastline, this course is surrounded by beautiful countryside and only minutes from the famous Speyside Way.

Opened in 1907, The course was designed by the legendary Ben Sayers and provides challenging drives, undulating fairways and natural green sites, all in a stunningly beautiful location, all in all a natural and highly captivating links course.

The late prime minister Ramsay Macdonald was a member at Spey Bay and the magnificent club championship trophy which remains at the club, was presented by him.

Course Highlights

The signature hole is the 138 yards 8th, situated at the most easterly point of the course, with a nasty bunker positioned to the front left of an elevated shallow putting surface. When playing this hole, you will want the wind to be on your side to be in with a chance of making the green.

Green Fees

One Round £25

Details of all courses can be found at morayspeysidegolf.com

CULLEN LINKS GOLF CLUB

Originally designed as a 9-hole course by renowned golf course architect 'Old Tom Morris', then later developed into an 18-hole by Charlie Neaves, Cullen is an enchanting course – perfectly located along the stunning shores of the Moray Firth. On the noted 7th tee, keep one eye on the ball and another to the shore to survey for Bottlenose Dolphins.

As one of the world's 264 true links courses, Cullen is known as the shortest of all these. While the course may be short, it packs a plentiful punch with an exciting mix of straightforward and challenging holes – to accommodate golfers of any ability.

Course Highlights

At 4600 yards you would expect this par 63 course to be aimed at families who want to enjoy a leisurely game of golf. However, "The Confidential Guide to Golf Courses" rated Cullen Links as being well above the average course.

Green Fees

Day Ticket (Mon – Sun)	£32
After 17:00	£25

30 BUCKPOOL GOLF CLUB

The fishing town of Buckie in the North East of Scotland has been keeping one of Scottish Golf's best kept secrets for many a year – its links style course.

Slightly elevated above the sea, the course boasts unbeatable views across the Moray Firth towards the hills of Caithness. Built on sand, Buckpool has fast, rolling fairways, often lined by tall mature gorse bushes. Swales and hollows are littered around the approaches to slick undulating greens, so precious, some are protected by cavernous bunkers providing golfers of all abilities an enjoyable challenge.

Course Highlights

Hole 5 – Morven, which is a 434yd par 4, the hardest hole on the course. A tough Par 4 that doglegs to the right. The gorse that line both sides of the fairway make an accurate tee shot a must.

STRATHLENE GOLF CLUB

Founded in 1877, Strathlene Buckie Golf Club is the epitome of ancient antiquity when it comes to Scotland golf, as it's one of the oldest golf clubs in the nation.

A cliff top links course, Strathlene is notable in that it combines modern with old. You will play recently redesigned holes that will give players a unique challenge, while heading in, you'll play some of the original holes – more than 120 years old.

Course Highlights

Playing to nearly 6,000 yards from the back tees, Strathlene gives golfers of all levels more than enough challenge than they could for and more. Undulating fairways, elevated greens and strategically placed bunkers make it a thinking-players course, where course management and ball placement will lead to a solid score.

BALLINDALLOCH CASTLE GOLF COURSE

Ballindalloch Castle Golf Course, with its nine holes and 18 tees, provides a fair test for golfers of all standards. The golf course is set on the banks of the Avon River, among 150-year-old trees and with marvellous views of the surrounding purple heather-clad hills and native birch woods.

The course was designed by Donald Steel and Tom Mackenzie, both internationally recognized golf course architects. They created a heady mix of challenging golf and aesthetic appeal, just as they have done at their other famous Scottish design, the Carnegie Course at Skibo Castle.

Course Highlights

The layout delivers a par 72 over two levels, making the most of the natural landscape. A combination of wide fairways and narrow approaches give a course that is as testing as it is attractive.

Green Fees

£10 per 9 holes
Season tickets £132
