

THE FRIENDLY TOWN EXPLORE KEITH

Rich in heritage and history, Keith – The first 'Scots Toun' is the eastern gateway to Moray Speyside. Step back in time and visit Keith.

Begin your visit to Keith with an exploration of Keith's flourishing Mid Street, packed with independent businesses, cafes, pubs and shops. It wouldn't be a trip to Scotland's first Scots Toun, a title given to Keith recognising the towns commitment to protecting and preserving the Scot's language, without popping into Mither Tongue (Scots for Mother Tongue) a fantastic small gift shop. While you're in the centre of Keith, spend time exploring some of its history and heritage. Head over to the Auld Brig (pictured) and gaze upon this 400-year-old stone bridge which spans the River Isla.

If you wish to stick to the whisky trail check out the historic Strathisla distillery.

DAY 1

DAY 2

There is plenty of excitement to have in and around Keith. If outdoor activities is what you seek then be sure to check out House of Mulben, who offer archery, clay pigeon shooting, quad biking and more. Complete the day with a relaxing trip on the 'whisky line' by boarding the Keith and Dufftown Heritage Railway.

If you are a foodie then Keith has lots to offer, why not try out the Boogie Woogie Cafe situated in the main square.

MALT WHISKY CAPITAL OF THE WORLD DUFFTOWN

Where Rome was built on seven hills, Dufftown was built on seven stills. Fully immerse yourself in Dufftown, a haven for lovers of scotch.

DAY 1

With six working distilleries in the area you could easily spend a whole week here. The best place to start your scotch adventure would be with a trip to the well-known Glenfiddich and Balvenie Distilleries. Conveniently located a stones throw from each other, these two distilleries are among Speyside's most famous.

If you prefer gin check out Glenrines Distillery.

Start your second day in Dufftown with something a little bit different by visiting the Dufftown Fairy Village. Located just one mile south of Dufftown, you will be transported into a fairy tale setting befit of a Brothers Grimm novel. After this why not head to the real thing by visiting the impressive Balvenie Castle.

If you are seeking adventure why not head up Ben Rinnes and then refuel at the Sidings Cafe after a hard but rewarding trek.
